

REDPOINT OPEN CLASS TRAINING

LIVE INSTRUCTOR LED TRAINING

At Redpoint Global we understand that teams change and grow and there is a need for training to help new employees to come up to speed on Redpoint products quickly or that existing team members may want a refresher, The online OnDemand training does go a long way in teaching the basics though it is a solitary process with minimal interaction.

Open classes are two-day courses that offer Redpoint customers training with a live instructor using our V-Lab virtual environment. This enhances the training process through live interaction and discussion. Students of other Redpoint customers will be in attendance so discussions will focus on general adoption and use cases.
